

Viola, from the moment I first saw you, I felt that gentle tug in my heart that whispered, "Stay a while." Over the years we've spent together, I've witnessed your quiet strength, your fierce loyalty, and your boundless empathy. In your eyes, I see a future that's brimming with warmth, adventure, and laughter. Standing here today, I promise to be your steady anchor when life's waves come crashing, to celebrate your successes and dreams as though they were my own, and to comfort you in your moments of sorrow. I promise to keep our love alive not just in grand gestures, but in the small, everyday moments we share—like stolen glances across a crowded room or the way your hand always finds mine. I vow to make room for your individuality, your passions, your quirks, because those are the very things that make you so extraordinary to me. You are my safe place, my best friend, and my greatest ally. I will forever cherish every memory, every inside joke, and every challenge we conquer together. Viola, I stand here now, ready to begin the rest of our lives, confident that no matter what comes our way, we'll face it together as partners, lovers, and friends.